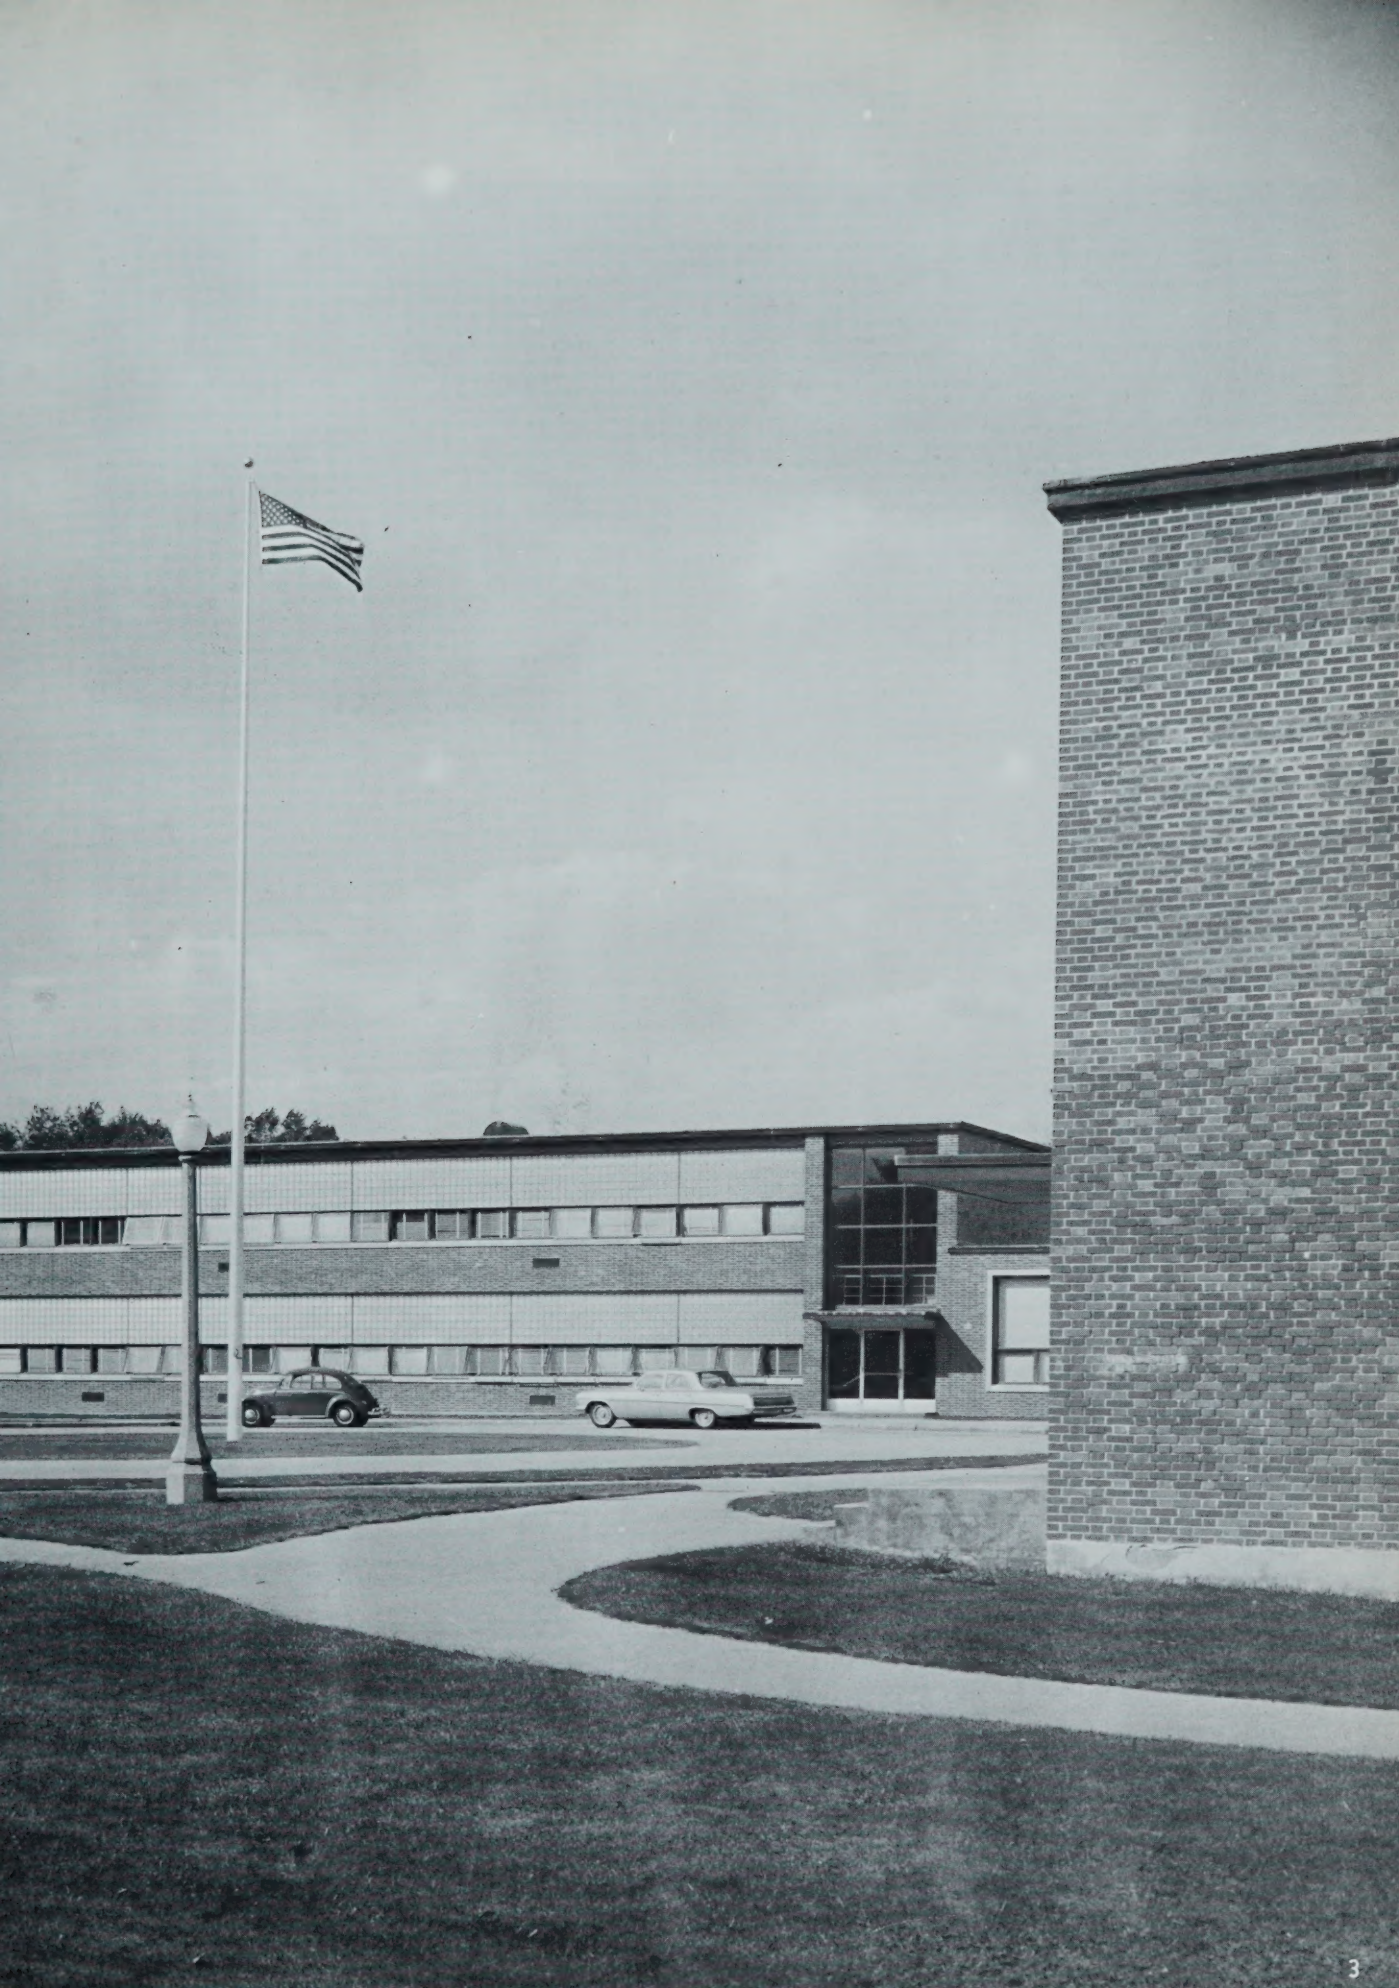
1966 HORNET

MANSFIELD,
MASSACHUSETTS

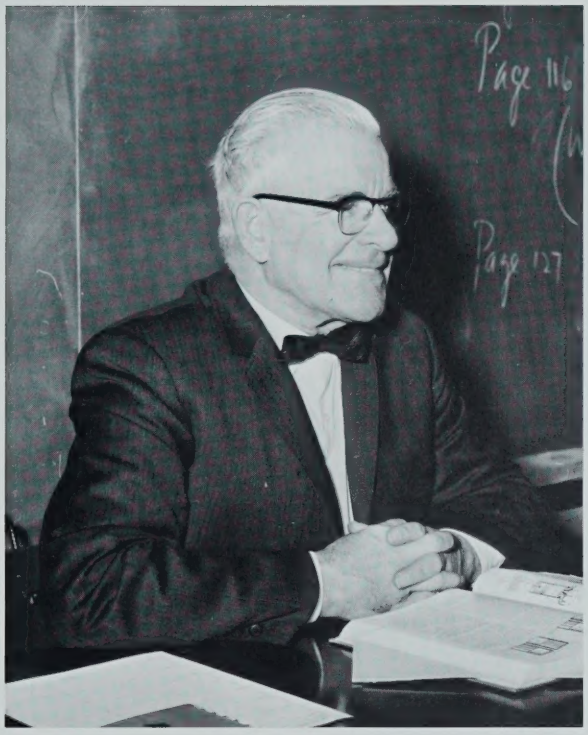
Our years at Mansfield High School have ended. In the 1966 Hornet we recapture a few of the moments of those years—years filled not only with fun, but with the many experiences of learning that have prepared us for our journey into the world. Now, about to set out on our separate courses, we invite you to share these moments with us, as we pause to remember.



Dedication

We, the senior class, dedicate the 1966 Hornet to Mr. Omer Deslauriers who, in the past four years through his help and counsel, has become a permanent part of our high school memories.

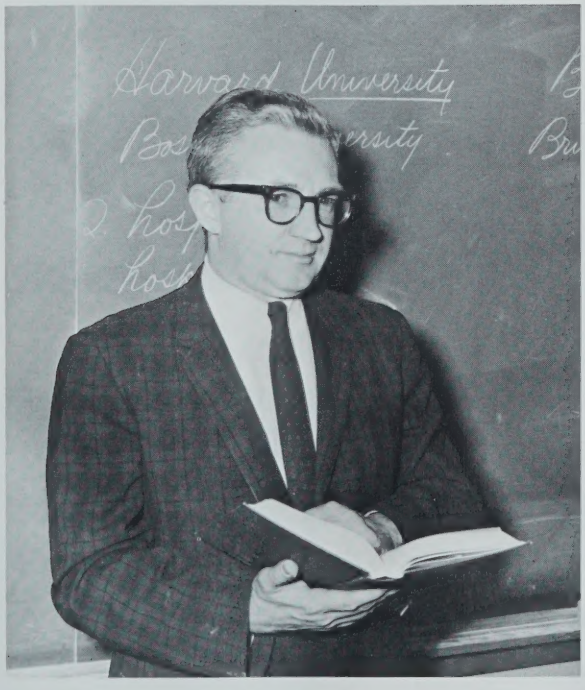
In Appreciation



MR. PIERCE

MRS. DITTO

We wish to thank our class advisors, Mrs. Ditto and Mr. Pierce, for their generosity and time given to us.



MR. BRANDENBURG

Heartfelt appreciation and thanks are extended to Mr. Michael Brandenburg for his capable assistance in the publication of the 1966 Hornet.

Administration

Superintendent

To Mr. Murphy, through whose efforts in expanding and improving the curriculum, we are better able to enjoy the benefits of a good education in an increasingly complex world, we extend much deserved thanks.

Principal

No words can express our appreciation to this man who has always had our best interest at heart.

Assistant Principal

We are aware of Mr. Blazo's disciplinary duties, but we will remember him most for his good advice, ready aid, and sense of humor.

The First Team

Row 1: K. Fallon, W. Fasulo, A. Faria, R. Jackson R. Havey, J. Souza, Row 2: D. De Girolamo, G. Costanza L. Hayner, J. Flammia

Holbrook 14 Mansfield 20

The season opener was a tough game marked by several great defensive stands by Mansfield when Holbrook threatened. A last minute pass from Hayner to Fallon, who fought his way to the end zone, turned defeat into victory.

Franklin 22 Mansfield 14

The weight and experience of the Franklin line proved deciding in the second game. However, Mansfield never quit. A last quarter rally, led by quarterback Hayner and spiced with several touchdowns by Souza, fell short in the remaining minutes of the game.

Oliver Ames 20 Mansfield 26

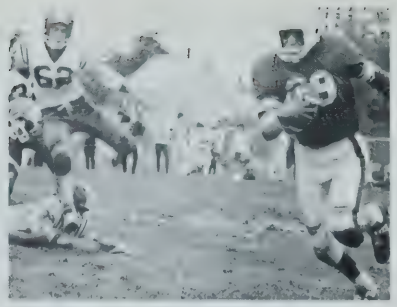
The spirit of the Mansfield club prevailed in this game. Although greatly outweighed by the massive O.A. line, the tough Mansfield squad made several aggressive drives for scores. The staunch defense of the team, headed by M. Jackson, Faria, and Havey, never gave O.A. a chance.

Canton 12 Mansfield 14

Again Mansfield was an underdog due to size and experience. However, a determined defense led by Captain Fallon and a hard running offense maneuvered by Hayner and carried out by Flammia, Costanzo, and J. Souza turned the tide for Mansfield.

Milford 8 Mansfield 16

Although a bit smaller than Mansfield, Milford put up a hard fight and held Mansfield scoreless until the second half. Fine offensive blocking by B. Jackson, Fasulo, Wisniewski opened gapping holes in the opponents line and sparked Mansfield onto victory.



Bishop Feehan 16 Mansfield 14

The teams were evenly matched and the game proved to be a rough, hard hitting contest with both teams turning excellent defensive and offensive performances. A disputed touchdown by Mansfield was called back and this proved the deciding factor in the game. Faria, M. Jackson, and Wade were defensive standouts, while Fallon was key receiver on offense.

Stoughton 22 Mansfield 0

Mansfield couldn't get rolling against the heavier, more determined Stoughton club. Stoughton scored all their points in the first half, while Mansfield couldn't get their offense or defense to tick. However, Mansfield came out with a strong defense but still couldn't score in the last two stanzas.

King Phillip 0 Mansfield 20

This was by far Mansfield's easiest contest of the year. The boys rolled over the K.P. line with Costanza, Flammia, and DeGirolamo hammering the opposition for repeated gains. A fine performance was put on by quarterback Hayner, who connected with Fallon for a T.D. and picked up many yards on the ground.

Foxboro 13 Mansfield 14

Mansfield made a "come from behind" effort to down Foxboro. Early in the game, two passes intercepted by Foxboro were turned into T.D.'s. However, Mansfield never gave up. Hayner fired a 30 yard pass to Flammia, who, with a fine block by Captain Fallon, raced 50 yards for a score. J. Souza, Flammia, and Hayner were outstanding on offense, while M. Jackson, B. Jackson, Havey, Faria, and Wade played a tough defense.

Class History

by Martha Young, Pat Couture, Barbara Prescott

Freshmen! Even that lowly title was better than "8th Graders." We had waited so long to be a part of the high school. No longer were we the forgotten, left-out 8th graders. Now we were the lowly, scared, miserable, peagreen freshmen.

In return for this coveted title we were given the honor of being servants to the mighty seniors for one day. This was the traditional Freshman Initiation.

Our uniform consisted of bibs, bows, ponytails and stuffed animals. Kneeling, with our fingers in our mouths, balancing books, bears and other paraphernalia we were required to recite the following poem:

I am a peagreen freshman
Who has a lot to learn
Before the coveted title
Of a Senior I may earn.

Oh Seniors, Oh Seniors,
You are so very grand
I feel it is an honor
To do as you command.

That night we were the "honored guests" of the seniors at the Freshman Initiation Dance. Many freshmen had to do various stunts such as peanut-rolling and hula-hooping. It was an evening of great fun for all of us.

Under the able leadership of our class officers: Tom Leonard, President; Mike Jackson, Vice President; Sally Thompson, Treasurer; Winnie Gentili, Secretary; and under the guidance of our class advisors Miss Maureen Bosteel, Mr. David Pierce and Mr. Omer DesLauriers, we began preparing for the Farewell to Senior Dance in May. This dance proved to be the most successful dance in our high school careers.

In June we eagerly departed for a summer of sun and fun and a well-earned rest.

After a leisurely summer we found ourselves glad to be back at MHS. It was easy to get back into the old groove, and we found that studying was a delightful change.

With our new class officers Doug King, President; Jim Wheeler, Vice President; Channa Alperin, Secretary; Sally Thompson, Treasurer; and with Mrs. Mary Ditto, appointed as our new class advisor, we began our Sophomore year.

During the year we held an Autumn and a Pre-Valentine Dance. Although both the evenings were enjoyable for everyone, they proved to be financial flops.

In April of our Sophomore year we were measured for our class rings. We looked forward to next October when we would receive them.

In the Fall of 1965 we joined forces with the Grand Old Seniors. Gay Young Sophomores, and Peagreen Freshmen as the Jolly Juniors.

During the year we held many fund-raising dances. Among them were the Pre-Victory Dance in October and the Sadie Hawkins Dance in November. Both dances were very successful.

Carrying us through the trials and tribulations of our Junior year were our class officers Mike Jackson, President; Jim Wheeler, Vice President; Nancy Dutton, Secretary; and Sally Thompson, Treasurer.

Our major fund-raising affair was the Candy Sale held in November and December. Many of us proved to be worthy salesmen and June DeVine was awarded free dues and was given a sum of money for being the top salesgirl.

For the first time campaigns were held for election of class officers. There was quite a battle for senior class president between Don Sweet and Tim Kelleher that included rallies in the parking lot and campaign speeches. There was a tremendous effort by both candidates but in the final tabulation Don Sweet was the victor.

In May Channa Alperin was chosen to attend Girls State with Sally Thompson as the alternate. Joe Repucci and Jim Wheeler were chosen to attend Boys State.

We really began to feel like Seniors after we had chosen Loring Studios as our class photographer. Also the Hornet '66 Yearbook Staff editors were chosen; Co-editors-in-chief, Sally Thompson and Edward Unger; Business Manager, Jim Wheeler; Photography, Channa Alperin; Art, Noel Williamson; Biographies, Martha Young, Donna Reagan; Advertising, David McCarthy; Sports, Joe Repucci, Nancy Dutton; Underclassmen, Sandy Tears, Carol DePalma, David Alessandri; Activities, Carla Tartaglia, Barbara Prescott; and Typing, Pat Couture.

Under the leadership of Chairmen Don Sweet and Channa Alperin we broke the tradition of Mansfield High and moved the Junior Prom from the gym to the Blue Hill Country Club. This proved to be a very successful venture. Jimmy Albertini and Sue Carbonetti were crowned King and Queen.

Our Junior Year climaxed our careers as underclassmen. We looked forward to the day when we would enter Mansfield High School as Mighty Seniors.

SENIOR YEAR

1966! This was our year of glory and we were going to make the best of it.

We started off with a bang by smearing the freshmen with lipstick and feeding them Pablum. Now it was our turn to educate the freshmen in the sophisticated traditions of the high school. As usual a Friday night dance completed their education.

After the Freshman Initiation we, along with the class officers, Don Sweet, President; Jim Wheeler, Vice President; Nancy Dutton, Secretary; and Sally Thompson, Treasurer, were busily preparing for the annual Hobo Dance. Noel Williamson was honored for having the best "hobo" outfit.

Sally Thompson and Ed Unger, along with Mr. Michael Brandenburg, started serious work on the yearbook. Their job lasted through the year beginning with senior pictures in November and ending with graduation.

On November 19 the Senior Class Play, "The Little Dog Laughed," was presented under the direction of Mrs. Lawson. This was an enjoyable and entertaining comedy. Outstanding performances were given by Juanita Pierce, Joanne Cronin, Jimmy Baxter, and David McCarthy.

A coffee house theme was used for Club 66, our major social event of the year. Entertainment was provided by such notables as George Powers, poet laureate, the Shocks, Sonny and Cher, and the "Growin' Grubs."

After carefully studying our financial situation, our class treasurer informed us that we were in desperate need of funds. After much deliberation on various money-making ideas, the class decided that the best way to make the most money would be to have an auction-bazaar with Mr. Orville Davis as auctioneer.

Every night was spent collecting articles donated by the townspeople. It was pleasing to see that all Seniors joined ranks to make the auction a great success.

Following our example the Junior Prom was again held at the Blue Hill Country Club. Kevin Fallon and Rita Fusco were crowned King and Queen. Everyone agreed that the evening was a night to be remembered.

Our graduation calendar is as follows: June 5, Class Picnic; June 6, Class Day and Banquet; and June 8, Graduation.

And now as the Class of 1966 we must part and go our individual ways always remembering that it is not too late to seek a newer world.

Class Prophecy

By Carol DePalma, James Wheeler, Nancy Dutton

I can't imagine why Jimmy invited me to his house this afternoon. After all we haven't seen each other since graduation. He said it was a surprise but—Oh! There's Jimmy and Nancy now. What in the world is that in the backyard? Why, it looks like some type of a rocket. Sure enough Jimmy has bought himself a brand new "H.L.Q. 500" rocket and wants Nancy and me to come along on a trip to the moon. How exciting!!! Jimmy rushes us into the rocket and we're off.

The trip begins smoothly enough until an argument arises. Nancy and I prefer to listen to the stimulating music of the "Bopping" Bob Marderosian on the interplanetary Radio while Jimmy likes the more classical music of Juanita "Banana" Pierce and that fantastic new gospel singer Joan "Beauteous" Hanson.

As the argument becomes more violent Jimmy is overpowered and accidentally cracks his head on the steering wheel. At the same time we notice that the fuel tank is almost empty. What do we do now? No fuel and Jimmy is writhing in pain, the weight of his massive body rocking the ship. But look! What are those lights in the distance? It's an unidentified, foreign planet. We safely land and step out of the ship to find ourselves in a dark jungle. We hear the sound of a bullet as it whizzes by. Checking the situation, we find that Nancy is the victim of an instant pierced ear. Into sight comes David Alessandri, the notorious hunter in search of tiger tails for his new Chevy Supersport. He is all apologies at seeing Nancy's ear and rushes us to the tribal witch doctor Edwin Earl Clare who is so flustered at seeing his old classmates that he amputates Nancy's ear by mistake.

Ear in hand, Nancy leads us on through the jungle only to be captured by George Powers, tribal leader of a new species developed with the help of geneticist, Ed "How'd you do on that test!" Unger. To our astonishment every inhabitant of this village is the perfect likeness of George. It's unbelievable! What's that noise? Oh, no! It's Rita Fusco, George's current wife, swinging through the tree tops in a leopard-skin bikini followed by Mary Sweeny, Rita's personal jungle maid. No sooner do they arrive than we hear noises behind us and into sight marches Sergeant Joanne "Kaduska" Cronin who is busily drilling some of the natives in jungle maneuvers. We notice that she is assisted by Joan "Coop" Cooper interplanetarily known girl athlete who has recently been awarded the Women's Solar System Trophy in field hockey. Meanwhile into view romps Mike Jackson, George's bosom pal, just returning from the jungle barber where he had his magilla gorilla beard trimmed.

After such an unusual experience we are very hungry, so George suggests that we have lunch at "Mara's Chow House," famous for its mystery meat and green hot dogs, served in soggy buns. As we reach the chow house we see in the window Gina Moschella, the famous Italian pizzamaker flipping pizzas. We enter the chow house only to bump into Meredith Paiva and Peggy Washburn, holding their stomachs in agony after their delicious meal. Finally seated, we are immediately waited on by Virginia Bogdanchik who proudly serves us the special of the day; American Chop Suey, Buttered Green Beans, Buttered Vienna Bread, Carrot Curls, Cherry Cobbler and Milk—all topped off by a home made donut. Could it be? Holy hole in a donut! The donuts were made by Cindy McKean. After this great reminiscent meal, we proceed to leave accidentally by-passing the cashier, Brenda Allard, who frantically runs after us.

After leaving the chow house we decide to further explore this weird planet. We pass a huge gothic monastery and who should be coming out but Father Joseph "Youppies" Repucci and Sister Sandra "Puritan" Tears. To our astonishment they are followed by Brother Uldis Liepens and Friar Fred "Pompador" Brown. After a terse, pithy, and laconic chat with the pious quartet we continue on.

Off in the distance we hear screams and into sight gallops Jackie "Miss Martin to You" Martin, being pursued by lieutenant Russ Barre and policewoman Linda "Loquacious" Thomas on her white stallion.

Next we hear loud cheering coming from a nearby arena and entering we see a ferocious wrestling match going on between "Killer" Joan Baribeault and "Grinder" Gert Zicolella. As Joan is about to take a chunk out of Gert's muscular leg, the referee Donna Dee abruptly throws her lanky body between the two. An angry spectator Ed DeLage voices strong objection to Donna's call for he has a $50 bet on Joan with Dennis "Bonebag" Cook.

There is further commotion in the rear of the arena as Carla Tartaglia tries to round up her fourteen kids who have just knocked over the popcorn machine along with Christine Inglese the counter girl.

We leave the arena and walking along we observe an enormous factory off to the left with a large neon sign reading "Sweet's Quality Clipboards." As we enter the building we see Don "Peru" Sweet bustling down the corridor, clipboard in hand, followed by his chief advisor Sally "Twinkletoes" Thompson. Off to the right we see the offices of Noel Williamson, chief clipboard designer, and her assistant Pam Fraites, specialist in mosaic clipboards. In another office busily at work are Don's four efficient secretaries Kathy Alessandri, Stenographer, Patty Couture, Speed Typist, Dotty Calhoun, I.B.M. machine operator, and Linda Walker, Transcriber.

Leaving the factory we stop by "Lord Lilly's" Drug Store to stock up on sedatives and aspirin that we may make it through the rest of the day. Behind the counter brewing LSD are pharmacists Norman Corbett, and Curt Buck. Watching closely is salesgirl Sandy Martinelli who seems to be taking an unusually great interest. Over at the fountain, soda jerk Danny Walker is serving three faithful customers, Ann DiGiampetro, Marcia Tibbert, and Marsha Flint. Talking with the girls they tell us of a good night spot, "Tirone's", owned by Joe Scialoia and Gail Delliacono. We thank them for their suggestion and move on towards the nightclub.

Upon arriving at "Tirone's we are graciously greeted by the charming hostess "Chatty" Channa Alperin, who directs us to a table ideally situated near the A-Go-Go cages where Janet McCoy, Gail Butler, and Joane Delliacono are engaged in fantastic gyrations. Over at the bar we see "Lovable" Lindo Galanti and "Big" Bob Havey shooting the breeze with head bartender Rick Wade. We also notice Jimmy Griffin scooping waitresses Winnie Gentili, Joanne Fasulo, and Irene Topham. Jimmy always did know how to pick 'em!!

Our attention is now turned to the swinging four piece band led by Tom "Satchmo" Leonard on trumpet with Jim Baxter on trombone, Dave "Ultra Mong" McCarthy on tuba, and Doug Cerreto on drums. The music is suddenly interrupted by a commotion in the rear of the room. We turn around just in time to see Kevin "Stein" Fallon about to splatter "Boy Wonder" Larry Hayner all over the floor. It seems that Kevin doesn't appreciate Larry's making eyes with his girls, Steph Grubick, Jeanne Sullivan, and Nancy Wood. Another fight instantaneously erupts as Al Carbonetti and Art Faria cannot agree on whose muscles are the biggest. Would you believe, here comes Art Lemire, "Tirone's" bouncer, who takes care of Kevin with one easy judo chop and tells the two muscle bound boys to scram. Feeling that we've had enough excitement for one evening we decide to leave and look for lodging for the night.

In a short time we come upon a little red boarding house owned by Jeanne Smart. Sitting on the porch in an old-fashioned rocking chair is Jeanne herself, rocking to the music of the Rolling Stones and waiting up for Bruce. Also on the porch we notice housewives Elaine Merrill, Shirley Spezio, and Janice Bowser, helping their children do their thousand to ones.

Jeanne welcomes us with open arms and says that she would be glad to accommodate us for the night. She orders two of the chambermaids, Brenda Cataioni and Carol Churchill to clean up a couple of rooms and in short order we are settled for the night. At the crack of dawn we awake to the smell of bacon and eggs prepared by the fabulous cook, Anne Savini.

After this delicious breakfast we are ready to leave. As we depart Jeanne tells us that we must visit the nearby Triple Tra Dude Ranch where we will find many of our old classmates.

We take her advice, but before we set out we stop by Tessie's "Rent a Car" where Ronnie Tessier, famous mechanical engineer, puts us in the driver's seat of a brand new "John D 500" designed by John Anderson renowned race car driver. After Ronnie's handyman Mark Boldrighini fills up the car with Coldbatane fuel, produced in Clifford Colby Laboratories, we head for the ranch where we arrive in no time at all.

We are graciously greeted by that synthetic blond bombshell Sandy "Rec" Guild owner of the Triple Tra Dude Ranch and her foreman Mike "Never Wrong, Always Right" Cushing. Sandy and Mike offer to show us around the ranch and as we are walking along we bump into two of the week-end guests, Senators Carl "Out Damned Spot" White and June DeVine, who are vacationing after conducting a rigorous campaign for a three day school week.

Next we see Margaret Steele, President of U. S. Steel, and her able press secretaries Arlene Gonsalves and Linda Grace Corr who are just passing through on a personal appearance tour. We move on into a grove of trees where we see that dynamic duo Barbara Prescott and Donna Reagan sitting in the shade and amusedly looking on as Kathy Roots, the famous tree surgeon, is performing a delicate root operation on a cactus. Upon her success she is congratulated by Timmy Kelleher, area forest ranger, who just happened to be blazing a trail through the cacti at that moment.

Sandy and Mike now take us to the barn where we are heartily welcomed by George Street, custodial managerial engineer of stable cleanliness. He takes us over to see Martha Young who is busily milking her prize winning Guernsey cows. As we are chatting with Martha, John Fulp who is pitching hay accidentally pitches his pitchfork into one of Martha's prize cows and the two of them are off and running. As we leave the barn we notice a group of people clustered around one of the corrals. Drawing nearer we are astonished to see fearless Fred Signoriello wrestling bulls with his bare hands. Imagine it! No weapons or anything. Just brute strength!

Having spent a good part of the day at the ranch we bid the gang farewell, and head back to our abandoned spaceship. Since the spaceship has been refueled by our old buddy George, we are set to go. As we blast off we realize that during high school the friendships we had made will long be remembered and we are glad that our misfortune had turned into such a wonderful experience.

The Last Will and Testament of the Class of 1966

We, the Class of 1966, being of sound mind and body, leave this assorted collection of odds and ends to the beneficiaries named herein:

To MR. MURPHY we leave a spade to break the ground for the proposed intermediary school.

To MR. QUALTERS we leave lavatory fixtures for his boy's rooms. MR. BLAZO just up and left.

DAVID ALESSANDRI leaves for India on a safari to hunt more tiger tails for his exotic Chevrolet.

KATHLEEN ALESSANDRI leaves her present job for one that pays.

BRENDA ALLARD leaves her shorthand book to anyone willing to take it.
